—Help For Strikers Expected

Williamson, W. Va., May 19.—Citizens of Mingo County, West Virginia, will be deputized as State police tomorrow in connection with the disorders in the West Virginia-Kentucky border battle zone. Capt. J. R. Brockus, of the State police, announced tonight at a "lay and order" meeting of representative citizens.

In making known the State's drastic steps, designed to meet the situation along the Tug river, the captain declared that "unless you have a rifle on your shoulder and are ready to do your duty, then we will have no order in Mingo county, where trouble has been rampant since last Thursday."

At last night's meeting of citizens in the courthouse more than 300 men representing professional and business circles of the affected district, were present.

An officer of the Kentucky militia was in the room and the crowd called for a speech by "the man with the spurs." The officer spoke of conditions on the Kentucky side of Tug river and the preservation of order there.

Lant Slaven, a Williamson attorney, made the opening speech. "They are firing on Sprigg," he declared, "and who knows how soon they will be firing on Williamson. I am not one to urge trouble. I have advocated the presence of Federal troops since the fight began last Thursday, but I am here to offer my services as a deputy and will gladly do my part to maintain order."

L. E. Lawson, a former service man, told those present that "it seems to be a call for men who will stand up for law and order in Mingo county in that we cannot obtain Federal troops. I will gladly devote some or all of my time as a deputy in order to preserve order. There may be a few losses among us, but who would not be willing to make a sacrifice for the sake of patriotism and law and order in Mingo."

The strikers regard the action of the War Department in refusing to send in Federal troops as a victory for their cause, and this has made (Continued from page two)

OPENING GAME IN ANNUAL SESSION

Defeat M. E. South Team
By Score of 15 to 2

MAYOR HURLS 1st BALL

Game Marked by Many Errors and Lots of Batting—Line up of Teams
Given

"Are all the Baptist in Alexandria base ball players, or do all of the ball players in Alexandria belong to the Baptist Church?" This and many other similar questions were being asked at Baggett's field yesterday afternoon where the First Baptist Sunday Base Ball Team was defeating the M. E. South Team by a score of 15 to 2.

This score is not to be taken as it seems, however, as neither team played what you would call air tight base ball. But it may be well to explain that all of this happened at the opening of the Alexandria Sunday School Base Ball League yesterday afternoon which was most auspiciously started by his honor Mayor Duncan who hurled the first ball to Pitcher Padgett—and the season was on.

Umpires Hurshman and Mason took up their posts on balls and bases respectively and the "play ball" was commanded. The Methodists took the field and Padgett promptly filled the bases and then proceeded to finish the inning without letting in a run. The Baptists then took the field and no runs resulted.

The Methodists again blanked the Baptists were not so accommodating and counted three runs to eleven things. This was the beginning of a regular ball game with plenty of errors and lots of batting to keep everybody in a good humor. The Baptist had clearly the best of it but their opponents never seemed to know it and fought along as gamely as if they were winning without doubt.

The Methodist line up was only altered the least bit, and that was to let Davis take Jameson's place at second base. The Baptists on the other hand seemed to have players to let. Tremary, an old star started to pitch the game for them and was never in trouble. He voluntarily gave way to "Monk" Hayden, another stellar performer of earlier days, who finished the game.

The Methodist line up was Brown, 3rd b.; Featherstone, 2nd b.; Dunn, cf.; Wade 1b.; Beeton, 2nd s.; Jameson-Davis, ss; Dodd, rf; Stickley, c; Padgett, p. Baptists, Jackson, ss; Topping-Sullivan, 2nd b.; Lane-Devers, 3rd b.; Long, 1 b.; Morton, c; Fones, cf; Clark-Kendrick, rf; A. Clark, lf; Tremary-Hayden, p.

A splendid crowd witnessed the opening game and among the spectators was Dr. E. B. Jackson and wife, Dr. E. V. Register and wife. The pastors of both the churches represented by the opposing teams are base ball fans and were clearly interested in the game throughout. Mayor Duncan stayed until the last man was out and the fact that the score was a bit one sided did not seem to lessen the interest of the crowd.

The second game of the series will be played at the same grounds tomorrow afternoon at 5.30 and the opposing teams will be Trinity M. E. and the Second Baptist.

Some remarks were heard at the grounds during the game yesterday afternoon regarding the fact that no admission had been charged and no hat passed. It was explained that the boys interested in the league were advised by the Honorary President of the league, Mayor Duncan, to have a tag day and clean up all of the expenses of the league at once and then not bother the spectators, who would be largely composed of Sunday School attendants who would appreciate the opportunity of seeing some sport without having to "dig up" each time.

Consequently a tag day will be held by the league Saturday and the young ladies of the four Sunday schools represented by the teams will sell tags for the benefit of the entire league of the season. It is believed that a generous response will greet the effort of the boys to give a seasons ball with out any great expense falling

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL 126th Annual Gathering in Christ Church at Char- lottesville

REV. GOODWIN RESIGNS

BISHOP BROWN REPORTS 900 CONFIRMATIONS FOR YEAR—ALSO REPORTS ON LONDON MEETING

Charlottesville, May 19.—The council of the diocese of Virginia met for divine service in Christ Church with Bishop Brown and the Revs. W. R. Neason, rector of the church, J. J. Gravatt, D. D., and George McLaren Bryden in the church. Bishop Brown celebrated the Holy Communion, assisted by the clergy named above.

The business session of the council met at 9:15 o'clock. The roll of clergy and laity was called by the Rev. G. McLaren Bryden and a full quorum of both orders was found present.

The secretary, the Rev. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., sent in his resignation from further service, on account of illness, which would prevent his re-election as the secretary is elected annually, but the Rev. J. J. Gravatt, D. D., of Richmond, made a motion that he be re-elected, because he was sure that Dr. Goodwin would appreciate the commendation and his duties could be performed by an assistant secretary. This was accordingly done by a unanimous vote. The sympathy of the council was expressed to Dr. Goodwin and sent by telegram as he is seriously ill. After this another telegram was dispatched announcing that he was unanimously re-elected to the office of secretary for another year. The Rev. George M. Bryden was then elected as secretary pro tem; and he appointed the Rev. Clayton Torrance as assistant secretary for this meeting of the council.

The bishop then appointed a committee to examine the certificates of lay delegates of which several were found incorrect. After the transaction of some necessary routine business, the bishop gave his address. He reported over 900 confirmations for the past year. He spoke of his attendance during the past summer upon the conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion held at Lambeth, the residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury in London, England. There were 228 bishops in attendance upon this conference the largest number that has ever attended any such conference or meeting of bishops held in England according to a statement made by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Bishop Brown stated that the majority of the resolutions of the conference were not of such high importance to the Episcopal Church in this country as they touched more generally upon conditions in the English Church. But the resolution upon church unity drawn up by the largest committee of bishops appointed at this conference by the Archbishop of Canterbury consisting of 75 members was admirable, and will claim the careful attention of all members of the universal church of Christ, throughout the world. It is a valuable and enlightening paper, showing the great advances made to wards unity by the Anglican Communion within recent years, and affording much hope for the future.

Better Business

Prediction Made by President of Retail Merchants Association

Newport News, Va., May 19.—W. H. Schwarzschild, of Richmond, president of the Virginia Retail Merchants Association, which opened its sixteenth annual convention this morning at the Hotel Warwick, urged that the merchants stand squarely behind the project for the development of Hampton Roads.

Touching on Federal taxation, he intimated that the merchants will urge the repeal of the excess profits tax and the luxury tax, and advocate in their stead a sales tax plan.

Business conditions have been bad during the past year, merchants have been adjusting themselves and their business, and prospects are much brighter, he declared. There are approximately 100 delegates present and more are expected on every train.

The delegates were welcomed to the city by Godfrey L. Smith, Vice-Mayor, in the absence of Mayor P. W. Hiden.

U. Umstadter, of Norfolk, father of the Virginia Retail Merchants Association, responded. He was applauded to the echo as he arose to speak. He declared that the retail merchant who succeeds must realize that he must serve the whole community. "This is a period of transition," he said. "I went through such a one, only worse, after the Civil War. We merchants, like everyone else, must take our medicine. Things will adjust themselves and be all right."

Norfolk, Richmond, Roanoke and Lynchburg all have large delegations at the meeting. It is understood that R. E. Knight of Alexandria, will be the next president of the organization. He is first vice-president now.

The delegates visited Langley Field this P. M., where there was a flying exhibition for them. Homer L. Ferguson was the principal speaker at tonight's banquet. He told the merchants of the importance of the development of Hampton Roads, and pointed out that State aid is necessary in this, and that the merchants can play a big part in creating sentiment to this end.

Justice White

Called By Death

End Comes Today After Failure to Rally From Operation

UNCONSCIOUS ALL DAY

Served in Senate Before Being Put on Bench by President Cleveland—Elevated to Bench in 1910.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Chief Justice White, of the United States Supreme Court, died at Garfield Hospital this morning of complications that developed after an operation last Friday from bladder trouble. Only his remarkable vitality enabled him to live through yesterday.

The last rites of the Catholic Church were administered when he revived from a state of coma for a few minutes, but he soon lapsed into unconsciousness again.

At the bedside were Mrs. White and other close relatives, while during the day and evening attaches of the Supreme Court and others went to the hospital to inquire as to his condition. Associate justices were among those who called, but when informed that the Chief Justice was unconscious and that his death was inevitable, left visibly moved and did not return.

Justice Edward Douglas White was, strictly speaking, the lone representative of the South on the bench for a number of years.

Coming from a family of judges, his father and his grandfather before him having been on the bench, Justice White had a judicial inheritance as well as legal training. His knowledge of the civil war was generally regarded as the most profound of any man that ever sat on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States. Of late years he had developed a specialty for questions of interstate commerce, and his contribution to the law of the land will last through the years.

He was born in the parish of LaFourche, La., in November, 1845. His parents were Catholics, and he himself was a confessor of that faith. His education was in Catholic institutions. In his early youth he attended the school at Mount St. Mary's near Emmitsburg, Md.; later he entered the Jesuit college in New Orleans, and finally he went to George town college here.

Justice White served in the Confederate army during the civil war, practiced law among the people of Louisiana, became a sugar planter on his lowlands. His ability and high character were recognized by the people in repeated commissions as a public official. In 1874, he was elected as senator in the Louisiana legislature. Four years later, he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the State and served until the new constitution went into effect in 1879, making all offices in the State vacant.

In 1891 Mr. White became a national figure. A senatorial contest was waged in Louisiana. Mr. White entered the race. He had managed the campaign of Gov. Nichols for reelection and had been prominent in the reform element of his State. He had fought vigorously in favor of the anti-lottery movement. The legislature finally chose him to succeed Senator Eustis.

Salvation Army Seeks To Obtain Required Budget For Year

The workers are busy in their efforts to collect the amount of the budget which is necessary to continue the work of the Salvation Army corps in this city.

Last year this institution furnished one thousand and fifty four meals and gave additional relief to one thousand seven hundred and fourteen persons. Spent one thousand three hundred and fifty-six hours in visiting the sick. Furnished beds for four hundred and twenty four and gave garments to six hundred and forty nine persons.

These illustrate some of the work of the Salvation Army here. The building on King street, now used as headquarters was purchased by the local corps and the money for the payments was borrowed from the Baltimore headquarters.

The budget for this city is sixty two hundred dollars and is for the maintenance of the corps, including the small salaries, expense of lighting, heating, transportation, religious and social activities, and physical relief, the latter includes expense of food, clothing, fuel, ice, medical aid, care of transient unfortunate, interest on the mortgage must be paid and a small sum will be appropriated for the college where workers are trained.

The Advisory Board hopes to raise a sum sufficient to extend the work and to relieve the Army from spending their value time in the solicitation of money.

The work of the army will expand in proportion to the financial support received.

Caught in Shad Net and Sells in Wash. Market Today for $99

A sturgeon weighing exactly 150 pounds and dressed weighing sixty pounds was caught in a shad net Tuesday night in the channel of the river off Occoquin by H. Sheppard of Accotink, Va.

The sturgeon was brought up the river this morning by Capt. W. L. Davis and taken to Washington and sold at public auction and brought $99. This is the first time this season that a sturgeon has been caught in this vicinity. Capt. W. L. Davis stated today that sturgeons are becoming very rare in and around this section and this accounts for the high price they bring. In former years he said sturgeon was more or less a drug on the market, and brought the fisherman but comparatively little.

This is the first time this season that a sturgeon has been caught in this vicinity. Capt. W. L. Davis stated today that sturgeons are becoming very rare in and around this section and this accounts for the high price they bring. In former years he said sturgeon was more or less a drug on the market, and brought the fisherman but comparatively little.

Must Connect With Sewers.
 The city health department has launched a crusade against owners of property who have failed to comply with the sewer tap law. About half a dozen property owners were cited into the police court today and the court gave them thirty days in which to make sewer connections.

Dr. Foulks, city health officer, told of the great menace to health caused by the direct and indirect contamination of the city water supply. He announced its intention to suspend sentence for thirty days and after that time fines will be imposed on all such persons who have failed to tap the sewers. The health department and the court are absolutely right on this proposition and with the co-operation of this department soon every house where a sewer passes will be connected and breeding places of disease removed. The sooner the better. It is hoped that the health department will continue a vigorous crusade against all property owners who have failed to tap the sewers. If this is done we will help make Alexandria a more sanitary and healthful city in which to live. Everyone is with the health department in this move and the sooner all are brought up the better off everyone will be.

Auto Bureau's Guide to Tourists.
 Certainly the members of the automobile bureau of the chamber of commerce are to be commended for the preparation of the little pamphlet to be given to visiting tourists coming to the city as announced in our news columns yesterday. The distribution of such a card, a part of which is prepared for mailing home as a souvenir, contains a list of the historic places of interest in the city, will help to put Alexandria on the map. The legend at the top of the card "You are hereby summoned to enjoy the hospitality of Alexandria, Virginia" certainly will prove helpful to the city and will result in the creation of good feeling for Alexandria on the part of all visiting tourists and show that her citizens are alert and wide awake as in many other cities but scant courtesy is shown to visiting automobile

FAVORS BONDS FOR SCHOOLS

The mayor has before him for approval or disapproval the recent ordinance passed by council providing for the issuance of $500,000 bonds. His honor is being impeded by a large number of persons, also by some societies that have as their creed the adequate education of the youth of our country, to veto this ordinance and then endeavor to persuade council to increase the issue to $600,000 or thereabouts.

The report of committee of School Board published in Gazette February 9, 1921, shows there is immediate and urgent need for new building and repairs which will cost about $110,000. This is for the present need.

It should require no argument to induce the people of Alexandria to respond promptly and fully to the needs of our schools, the more representation of facts should be sufficient. They know the value of education for welfare and happiness good citizenship and material prosperity, their children are their first interest.

All they have they would gladly give to promote the safety and welfare of their children. All the wealth of the present generation which they do not themselves consume will be used by or for their children, or left to their children when their parents are gone.

It is only a question of whether it shall be wisely used now for the health and comfort of their children and for their better education and preparation for life, or whether it shall finally be left to the doubtful use of those to whom these things have been denied in their childhood to pay for buildings recommended in this report and to make the necessary repairs to the old buildings will of course require an issue of bonds. So far as we can learn our city's revenue this year will be increased, our indebtedness is nominal, we are told we can load the $500,000 a burden is there anything these funds without it being a burden and if it is can be better used for, or is there a tax payer who would not willingly submit to a parent who would object to giving further assistance to the crying needs of our growing boys and girls, our city's chief asset? If, however, bonds may be justly used for any purpose whatever, and any Foley's Honey and Tar.

 Mrs. D. E. Parmenter, Chicago, Pa., writes: "I am writing to tell you of the much better than I can tell you. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar and it has cured my cough and I feel much better than I have in many months. I will be pleased to recommend it to my friends and will send you a testimonial if you will send me a card."

used, by the people of one generation to be paid for by those of another, the building of school houses is such a purpose. When we issue bonds to pay for streets, sewers, and fire department we ourselves get the benefit of these, and when our streets, sewers, and roads are worn out, and must be replaced or repaired our fire department outgrown our children pay for what we use and possibly used up. By issuing bonds for this purpose we only enable them to borrow from their future selves and to provide themselves now with that which is not only essential to their welfare but which we feel ourselves too poor to give out of our own pockets.

It would hardly be probable that the thousands of large household members of our city, thus far, and the young men and women of Alexandria with their children this right to live and be educated under more comfortable and sanitary conditions during their school days and to have the equipment necessary to enable them to use these school days to the best advantage in preparing themselves for productive occupation and for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship and life.

DRUG CLERKS FORGET
STAMPS—UNCLE SAM
LOSES $20,000,000

Lazy drug clerks all over the country, it developed last night, are costing the government about $20,000,000 a year, because of their failure to put revenue stamps on cosmetics, medicines and other articles that require it.

Within the last month, government figures show, the loss was about $1,000,000 below the estimates of what would be derived, while the habit is growing. Official estimates upon which Congress worked in prescribing the tax held that approximately $40,000,000 would be raised. Now it is doubtful if more than $20,000,000 will be collected. The official estimates were considered accurate, owing to the fact that the tax had been in force, but in a different way, for a long time.

The tax law provides that the tax on such products be 1 cent for each item sold for 25 cents or less, but on items of more than 25 cents that it be at the rate of 4 per cent.

Inquiry at drug stores has developed that the proprietors have been insisting the stamps be affixed, but the clerks are forgetful.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL
IN ANNUAL SESSION

The bishop then referred to the suggested change of the general convention management of dioceses to a firm following that of Bishop and Council instead of the present general committees with the Missionary Society as the chief one at present followed in this diocese, he felt that it was best to continue our present order, until it is seen how the new system bears the test of practical experience. The bishop next spoke of the low tone of morals holding sway in society and elsewhere in immodest dress on the part of women, light talking, loose language, improper dance halls and cursing and swearing so frequently heard in public. He was careful to say that we must speak wisely on these subjects lest we do more harm than good in handling this most delicate but important matter, still certain and grave questions do exist which are causing great searchings of heart on the part of Christian men and women and it is important for us to deal with them. The matter was referred to the committee on social service.

Several committees reported after the conclusion of the bishops address. The council took recess for luncheon at one o'clock, served in the Sunday School room by the Church of the Holy Trinity.

There is a large attendance of clergymen and laymen at this council.

On Tuesday night there was a meeting held in the church on Religious Education. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. J. D. Tucker, D. D., and the Rev. E. L. Woodward, M. D.

SPORTS

IT'S BASEBALL

Watch notices for Saturday and Sunday baseball games with the Dreadnaughts. On Sunday at 3 p. m., Bowling Field will attempt to stop the "D's" in their winning streak. The visitors were undefeated last year, and this season are boasting of nine straight wins. Prospects are good for an exciting game and a good exhibition of baseball is promised. The "D's" have pitching aces and are good with the stick, so if the aviators expect easy sailing it certainly will be "tuff."

See the game if you like baseball, that's all.

The Brothers' School defeated the Triangle Club in a hotly contested battle on Baggett's field by a score of 7 to 5 yesterday. Batteries, Sheehy and Gorman for the winners, and Smith, Bount and Lawler for the losers. The feature of the game was the fielding of Wigfield.

The triple A's are playing real base

Erecting Machinist Tells About Chasco-Vin The Strength-Creating Tonic

Joseph Little, whose work takes him anywhere and everywhere but who is now located at the Lincoln Hotel, No. Tenawanda, N. Y., recently broke down under the strain of overwork and was laid up for two weeks. Here's what he says about Chasco-Vin, the Strength-Creating Tonic. "It's certainly a wonderful tonic and ought to be in every workingman's home. When I began taking Chasco-Vin at the suggestion of a relative, I was all in, in fact I was scared. But the three bottle treatment brought me completely around. I am at work every day and feel better than I have for years. Tell those who take Chasco-Vin to do it right. Take the full treatment, although results begin with almost the first spoonful." Chasco-Vin is only sold by specially appointed agencies. In Alexandria the Chasco-Vin agency is Edgar Warfield, Jr., King and Pitt streets.

ball, fast teams, fast work therefore close exciting scores all the time. They have played 10 games and lost one so far this season. A good ball game is always appreciated out some times hard to find. Follow the triple A's and you will always find just the kind of a game you enjoy.

Sunday they will play the fast Gibraltar team of Washington. This team has been playing remarkable ball and is classed as one of the very best in that city. The game will be called at 3.30 sharp on the shipyard grounds. In the event of wet grounds they will play on the North Alfred street lot at the same time.

Lampblack Candy Kills 1
And Poisons 13 Innocent's

Chicago, May 19.—Licorice candy made of lampblack and sweetening substance and sold to the retail trade at less than 10 cents a pound was charged yesterday with the death of one child and the poisoning of 13 others.

The poisoning charge was made when the coroner began an investigation of the sudden death of Raymond Doolittle, aged 4 years. After some testimony had been heard, the inquest was continued until physicians could make a complete analysis of the child's organs, and also test samples of the candy.

Preliminary investigation by police late yesterday showed 14 similar cases of poisoning in the immediate neighborhood of the Doolittle home and city

Valuing Quality

You cannot place too much importance upon the quality of the food you eat. Quality as expressed not only in nutritive value but in PURITY.

Thus you will fully appreciate the pains that is taken--the deep scientific protection that is given to select ingredients for CORBY BREAD that are of absolute purity; and the adoption of patented machinery that insures the development of ALL the gluten content of the highest grade flour. And, too, it is significant that to the Corby formulas are added unusual quantities of rich milk--thereby adding materially to the nourishment contained in every loaf of

Corby Bread
100 per cent pure; and
100 per cent nutritious

It is very worth while specifying CORBY BREAD—for you are then insured of these two important features—PURITY and NUTRITION—to the maximum degree.

CORBY BREAD is made right here in Alexandria, and delivered fresh from the ovens to your grocer or delicatessen.

INGOMAR THEATRE
May Allison is the attraction tomorrow evening at the Ingomar Theatre, in a brilliant social satire from Mrs. Humphrey Ward's famous novel, "The Marriage of William Ashby." Tonight Chapter No. 11 of the Double Adventure serial will also be shown. Tonight Roy Stewart, in Triangle's big production "Keith of the Border," heads the bill.

IDLE HOUR THEATRE
"Neptune's Bride" written and directed by Capt. Leslie T. Peacocke, the author of Neptune's daughter, is the attraction at the Idle Hour Theatre Saturday of this week. Pluvia takes the leading role in this drama which is full of fine acting and big scenes. Today is All Comedy Day at this theatre with several high class comedies being shown. Tomorrow Wm. Fairbanks in "A Western Adventure" and Chapter No. 12 of the "Thunderbolt Jack" serial make an attractive bill.

For today, Friday and Saturday, Managers Steele and Reed of the Richmond Theatre, offer "Bob Hampton of Placer."

One of the outstanding features of Marabel Nellan's spectacular picturization of the Randall Parrish novel, "Bob Hampton of Placer," is said to be the striking characters of the story depicted on the screen, by one of the most popular casts ever assembled in a Nellan film.

The period of the story, dealing as it does with American frontier life in 1876, allows for unusual characterizations. In the title part, James Kirkwood is given a role that it is expected will stand out for some time to come. "Bob Hampton," a man of iron, yet with many human characteristics, is pictured by the author in a way that few heroes are presented to lovers of fiction. Surrounded with a certain air of mystery, this part lends itself well for screen picturization as it carries with it that suspense which goes to make up so much of a film's success.

Beautiful Elaine Hammerstein was a delight in "The Miracle of Manhattan" last evening at the Richmond.

On the bench of the Supreme Court act, when Senator White distinguished himself by advocating the views President Cleveland was known to entertain on the subject. His nomination to the bench ended a memorable contest in the Senate. Two New Yorkers had been nominated by President Cleveland, but both failed of confirmation. Throwing the winds the custom which for years had kept a New York man on the bench, Mr. Cleveland named Senator White. He was confirmed within an hour.

On the bench of the Supreme Court he delivered some important opinions, among these being opinions in the succession tax cases, the income tax cases and the insular cases.

Justice White was elevated to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States by President Cleveland in 1894. During that period he distinguished himself on two occasions. One was in the debate on the anti-opium law, when Senator White made a profound legal argument against the constitutionality of the measure.

Three years before he was elevated to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States by President Cleveland in 1894. During that period he distinguished himself on two occasions. One was in the debate on the anti-opium law, when Senator White made a profound legal argument against the constitutionality of the measure.

Fairbanks in "A Western Adventure" and Chapter No. 12 of the "Thunderbolt Jack" serial make an attractive bill.

For today, Friday and Saturday, Managers Steele and Reed of the Richmond Theatre, offer "Bob Hampton of Placer."

One of the outstanding features of Marabel Nellan's spectacular picturization of the Randall Parrish novel, "Bob Hampton of Placer," is said to be the striking characters of the story depicted on the screen, by one of the most popular casts ever assembled in a Nellan film.

The period of the story, dealing as it does with American frontier life in 1876, allows for unusual characterizations. In the title part, James Kirkwood is given a role that it is expected will stand out for some time to come. "Bob Hampton," a man of iron, yet with many human characteristics, is pictured by the author in a way that few heroes are presented to lovers of fiction. Surrounded with a certain air of mystery, this part lends itself well for screen picturization as it carries with it that suspense which goes to make up so much of a film's success.

Beautiful Elaine Hammerstein was a delight in "The Miracle of Manhattan" last evening at the Richmond.

On the bench of the Supreme Court act, when Senator White distinguished himself by advocating the views President Cleveland was known to entertain on the subject. His nomination to the bench ended a memorable contest in the Senate. Two New Yorkers had been nominated by President Cleveland, but both failed of confirmation. Throwing the winds the custom which for years had kept a New York man on the bench, Mr. Cleveland named Senator White. He was confirmed within an hour.

On the bench of the Supreme Court he delivered some important opinions, among these being opinions in the succession tax cases, the income tax cases and the insular cases.

Justice White was elevated to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States by President Cleveland in 1894. During that period he distinguished himself on two occasions. One was in the debate on the anti-opium law, when Senator White made a profound legal argument against the constitutionality of the measure.
